AN INTERACTIVE SYSTEM FOR AND METHOD OF AUTOMATING THE GENERATION OF LEGAL DOCUMENTS

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method and system for interactively generating legal documents by a requestor for a recipient. A legal document server is established on a computer network to receive legal document requests from a legal document requestor. Each legal document request includes recipient and subject matter information sufficient to create a legal document. The legal document server generates a legal document according to the legal document request using the recipient and subject matter information. The legal document server transmits the generated legal document directly to the recipient.
